Vary Severely from the Storm—The Pretty Little Villare Almost Wiped Out. Saurhmayd, Grayson County, Tex., May 8.—(Special)—Saturday at 5 p. m. the worst ordine that ever delice this part of the state struck the peaceful little village of Southmayd, and at one fell swood almost wiped it from the face of the carth. Not a house but shows the effect of the nurs.

of the earth. Not a hoose but shows the effect of the anorm, it first struck Pittman & Harrison's large hay house in the westers part of the village, inreading it and throwing baled hay in every direction. It next struck S. N. Mayers hay ware-house and almost made knilling weed of it. Then it seemed to toy along with the horse of the by shipply tearing a peri of the roof and kneeking down the flues. Weich's new store building, which was only opened to the public Friday; this it completely wrecked and passed on to the Teras and Pacific railway section house, which it litted from its blacks, twieried out of shape and then passed on to two box cars, which it blow off the track. From there it took a southwesterly rourse across the country, streving its path with the tree-kings from the buildings it had destroyed, as far as the eye yould see.

No one but an eye-witness can have my lifes of the damage; it is simply awful.

And to add to the destruction by wind. a steady rain fell, which will lannage all the grain, hay and feed that is lay-

Toy Bray and family assured the atorm sfar off and hied to the house of a neighbor who owned a cellar, so he was not at home to see his house blown away. He has about $500.

He lost about $500.
This is a full list of the damage as far heard from, excepting that which appeared in today's Glanche.
Heary Rawland, who came up today from near Wasoldine, reports that several small hottees near the Dye school house, near the Grayson county line, were destroyed, but that no one was injured. Mr. Rawland also reports the total loss of his orelard, which was one of the best in the county. Over a strip of country, four miles long and two miles while he says the hall rained destruction on all kinds of vegetation, fulling in torrous until the ground was covered to a on all kinds of vegetation, falling in tor-perts until the ground was everyod to a depth of six inches. He had 275 bear-ing peach trees and 280 apple trees which he says will die, being stripped of every leaf and every luch of bark. His carn and cotton were cut up and beat into the ground. His less will approach close to $5000. There was no wind in his neighborhood.

his neighborhood.

Others in his neighborhood to suffer from the hall are:

J. S. Ballurd, four miles east of here, $500.

Charles Dustin, $200. J. M. Bruce, $250. Jim Allen, $200.

Jim Allen, $380.
Charles Chinon, $100.
Mrs. Henry Noyton, $150.
The only addition to be under to yestecday's list of town damage is that of I. N. M. Patterson, whose stock of dry goods suffered to the extent of $500 by water.
The damage is this city is variously estimated in from $25000 to $35000.

L. Blackbarn and his family, who were I. Blackburg and his family, who were seriously injured in the wreck of their home, were brough in hite this after-mon and are now at the home of their dunginer, Mrs. W. I. Bird. Contrary to first opinions, Mr. Blackburn is not family injured and it is thought be will recover rapidly. Mrs. Blackburn is quite painfully bruised, but her injuries quite painfully bruised, but her injuries are not serious. The storm which did so much havoe in this county Saturday was a double cyclone, and that this town escaped so lightly is due to fish fact. Two clouds, almost identical in appearance, appeared in the same those. One was coming with porticulous grandeur from the southeast in a direct line for Gainewille. The other, singlify superior in size, was seen to the northwest. Its path lay a little to the west of Gainewille. It passed by and mer the other one south of the to the west of Gainerville. It passed by and met the other one south of the town. A stringle resided, ending in the defeat of the one headed for this place, and being diverged it struck Fair Plains, to the south of Gainerville, histead of spreading death and desolution throughout the streets of this city. The storm played some queer frenks. Mrs. Henry Norter, Bving at Fair Plains had a big herd of horses and eight of them were blown a mile.
